What is TEAM Time?

TEAM (Together Everyone Achieves More) Time is the way Independence Elementary School students, staff and community start the day. When the bell rings for the beginning of school approximately 400 students, staff, and community members pile into the gym to start their day with movement, dancing, team building activities, signing, stretching, "Brain Gym", aerobics, and singing, followed by morning announcements, and the Pledge of Allegiance. We end with a daily affirmation (I'm ready to learn!) that gets us excited and connected for learning. TEAM Time lasts about 15 - 18 minutes. When we are finished students are energized and ready for learning and the teachers are energized to teach. TEAM Time is about community building, as the whole school gathers together everyday to celebrate learning. This unifies our school and connects us both mentally and physically.

From a physical education perspective it gives me a chance, at a higher level, to teach and reinforce concepts to the whole school community including playground rules, Levels of Responsibility, health and fitness related knowledge, math skills, and dance movements. I love that I can incorporate the dances we learn in physical education and keep dancing them all year round. I also do Brain Gym which is a series of simple movements used in Educational Kinesiology to enhance the experience of whole brain learning.

How did it get started?

The concept of TEAM Time came from an activity I did during National Physical Education and Sport week which comes the first week in May each year. I did daily movement assemblies for the whole school during that week that included movement and dances the whole school could do, usually with streamers. The staff loved the way the students behaved after exercising. At the beginning of the next school year I was approached by the staff and the principal about doing this on a daily basis. So we did and that was how TEAM Time came to be. Of course I asked for several things, like an elevated platform, PA system with four speakers, CD player, and wireless microphone all usable and mounted within the gym. Now I joke that my first class of the each day has 400+ students.

How do you make this work? (procedures)

Each class has assigned places to gather within the gym with matching assigned places to place their backpacks. When the bell rings all students gather in the gym, put their belongings by the wall, check their own personal space and start following me. I am on a platform (about 4 foot tall, 4x5ft.) I lead and they follow. Classroom teachers meet their classes in the gym then go to the classroom to take attendance and lunch count.

Kindergarteners are paired with a fourth grade buddy, that way they feel safe right away and have a great model to show them what to do and to help them. Kindergarteners do great and the fourth graders like to help their buddies!

The first song is usually a slower warm-up song. I incorporate cross lateral movements, PACE, and stretching activities.

The second song is usually faster, during this song I use more vigorous movements and jump patterns. The third and fourth songs are usually some sort of dance. We know over 50 of them. I try to rotate them throughout the weeks but we do have our favorites. Students also lead from the platform.

The last song or songs, depending on time, are cool down songs where I repeat PACE, cross lateral movements, and a series of stretching activities.

On some days I also add a signing song where we sign a song like God Bless America, Happy Trails, One Light One Sun, or Wonderful World just before the cool-down.

After the cool-down students lead the flag salute, then I follow it up with any announcements followed by the affirmation of the day. (turn to your neighbors, put your hands apart, on the count of three say, "learning rocks! Yes!" Ready, 1,2,3....)

Students are then released to their classroom teachers who line them up and exit the gym!

Are staff members required to come?

YES! Classroom teachers and aids, if they are free, but everyone loves to be there. For some, this is the only exercise they get. Even the principal participates.

Public Relations. One thing that has been neat about TEAM Time, that I never dreamed of when I took on this endeavor, was the impact it would have on the community and the positive impact it has made on my physical education program. The parents love it and think its great which shines a bright positive light on physical education in general. TEAM Time is a one of kind program and many people come to see it. It has made a very positive impact on our school and has brought teachers and students together through movement and play. We have performed TEAM Time on center stage at the local Hop Festival and with the House of Representatives in the Oregon Legislature. It has been duplicated in various schools across Oregon and Washington and around the country.
